Terms of use

Last updated: 04/11/2026

The service

atgadinajums.lv lets you schedule and send SMS and automatic voice calls to recipients specified by the account user.

Recipient consent

The account user is responsible for having a lawful basis to send messages to recipients. A recipient's opt-out is respected, and no messages are sent to them.

Prices and payments

The price of an operation is shown before confirmation. Funds or package units are reserved before sending. The unused reservation is released.

Prohibited content

Sending illegal, misleading or unsolicited commercial content is prohibited. In case of a breach the account may be blocked.

Liability

Message delivery depends on telecommunications operators. The status of each recipient is visible in the reports.
